The most direct route to the most current content.

Elsevier Reference Modules are the very best content from our Reference Works, hand-selected by independent experts and continually updated—even date stamped—to reflect new research in the field. Be in the know with Elsevier Reference Modules.

The most trustworthy, up-to-date digital content.

The Elsevier Reference Modules are a searchable, up-to-date compilation of the very best content from our Reference Works.

- Continuously advancing
  Content is continuously reviewed, updated and date stamped
- Authoritative
  Intuitive subject hierarchy, designed by an expert editorial board appointed for their stature in their field
- Cohesive
  Easy to navigate through interdisciplinary subjects contained in the Reference Modules
- ScienceDirect
  Links to relevant journal articles and book chapters on ScienceDirect for additional information and further research. Reference Modules are a primer for advancing research

Learn more at www.ReferenceModules.com
Reference Module in
Neuroscience and Biobehavioral
Psychology

Stimulate research and innovation at your institution by equipping users with the latest developments in the rapidly evolving fields of Neuroscience and Biobehavioral Psychology.

Meet the Editorial Board

Meet the Editorial Board built the subject hierarchy, curated the content, oversaw the review of content, and continues to ensure the content is up-to-date and complete for Neuroscience and Biobehavioral researchers:

John Stein, University of Oxford, UK - Editor in Chief
Robin Dunbar, University of Oxford, UK
Clive Coen, King’s College London, UK
John Morris, University of Oxford, UK
Guy Goodwin, University of Oxford, UK
Edward Mann, University of Oxford, UK
Masud Husain, University of Oxford, UK
John Stein, University of Oxford, UK
Edmund T. Rolls, Oxford Centre for Computational Neuroscience, UK
Jeremy Taylor, University of Oxford, UK
Vincent Walsh, Institute of Cognitive Neuroscience, UCL, UK

With continuously updated articles selected from the following 19 Reference Works:

• Comprehensive Clinical Psychology
• Encyclopedia of Hormones
• Encyclopedia of Psychotherapy
• Encyclopedia of Adolescence
• Encyclopedia of Applied Psychology
• Encyclopedia of Infant and Early Childhood Development
• Encyclopedia of Basic Epilepsy Research
• Encyclopedia of Sleep
• Encyclopedia of the Human Brain
• Encyclopedia of Movement Disorders
• Encyclopedia of Creativity, 2nd Edition
• Encyclopedia of the Eye
• Encyclopedia of Neuroscience
• Encyclopedia of Consciousness
• Encyclopedia of Behavioral Neuroscience
• Encyclopedia of Human Behaviour, 2nd Edition
• Encyclopedia of the Neurological Sciences, 2nd Edition
• Brain Mapping: An Encyclopedic Reference
• Encyclopedia of Mental Health, 2nd Edition

Plus new articles exclusively commissioned for the Reference Module!

Visit referencemodules.com to find out more!